TECHNOMASTERMIND

PRESS KIT / EPK

A German producer and one of the early architects of hard techno and the Schranz sound, releasing since the early 1980s under his own name and aliases like Holocube and Aquaform. From 1999 to roughly 2004, he co-produced the influential Stigmata series with Chris Liebing — work that won the two of them the Best Producer award at the German Dance Award 2001. He now works under the name Technomastermind, offering mastering, sound design and production for other artists and labels.
